

Weather: TORRANCE, CA | Now: 68°F | High: 71°F | Low: 61°F | 5-Day Forecast

Live Traffic 110N 110S 405N 405S 91E 91W

dailybreeze.com LAX TO L.A. HARBOR

SEARCH This Site Web Search powered by YAHOO!

Subscriber Services | Home Delivery | e-Edition | Alerts | RSS

Part of the LA.com Network

Home News Sports Business Opinions Entertainment Life & Culture Info Classifieds Jobs Autos Homes Obits Directories

Place an Ad

Ask About this Story Have a question about something in this story? Ask it here and get answers from readers like you.

BOOKMARK Print Email Font Resize

Aerospace Players take on the challenge of `Producers'

By Jeff Favre Posted: 07/27/2010 05:42:18 PM PDT

LISTEN TO STORY DOWNLOAD

Los Angeles Coupons 1 ridiculously huge coupon

Most Views Most

- Couple found dead in Marina del Rey
- Naked woman falls out of 2nd-story window in Hawthorne
- Texas mayor kills herself, daughter found slain
- Lennox bondage club owner was shot several times in the head
- Officials concerned about danger due to dry brush in fire-prone areas
- Annual volleyball tournament to highlight International Surf Festival
- Wildfire threatens Palmdale homes
- CHECKPOINTS: Torrance speeders; Wilmington, Los Angeles, North Hollywood
- TRAFFIC ALERT: Fatal accident closes 3 lanes on 405 Fwy at La Tijera Blvd.
- 3 arrested as suspects in attempted robbery of Hawthorne corn vendor

Questions/Answers

It's not hard to understand - if you put it in the context of the times - why Mel Brooks' 1968 comedy film "The Producers" was both a mainstream bust and derided by many critics as tasteless and vulgar.

It was, after all, a film that made light of Nazis, and joked about race, religion and sexual orientation.

But times change, and the 2001 stage musical adaptation earned 12 Tony Awards, ran for six years, and spawned another movie.

Times, it seems, have also changed for the Aerospace Players. With "The Producers," the company has for the first time in its more than two-decade history chosen a musical produced after 1990.

And even if the result is a mixed bag of performances and technical elements, it's nice to see the Players branch out beyond the old classics and opt for a new classic.

What works for this show is that director Steve Norris and his cast clearly are having fun with the ridiculous book (co-authored by Brooks and Thomas Meehan), and with Brooks' lighthearted songs. It's the lovable wackiness of Brooks, though, that causes most of the problems, because the Players cast - its pair of leads in particular - doesn't match the pace required to make lowbrow gags and broad humor zing. So the laughs are too far between to sustain a three-hour running time.

For those who haven't seen "The Producers" in any of its incarnations, the title refers to washed-up Broadway veteran Max Bialystock (Bob Minnichelli) and nerdish accountant Leo Bloom (Joe Essner).

Thanks to Leo's offhand remark, Max gets the idea that the guys should team up to produce the world's worst musical and oversell shares in it to the elderly women whom Max has seduced to finance his previous projects. The show would flop, and with Leo cooking the books, the pair should make off with loads of cash.

And what could go wrong with the plan when the musical is "Springtime for Hitler," written by - and starring - a crazed Nazi named Franz Liebkind (J.C. Kern), and directed by the exceedingly effeminate and oblivious Roger De Bris (Jon Sparks), with help from his partner Carmen Ghia (Scott Clifford). Add the mindless Swede, Ulla (Jeanine Barba), as Eva Braun and you've got the recipe for disaster.

Much of the musical's dialogue comes from the original movie, with Max spouting Brooks' trademark rapid-fire one-liners about sex and Leo stammering along as the timid sidekick.

Minnichelli and Essner have chemistry as the oddball pair, but their give-and-take frequently is a beat too slow, and these punch lines only work if the audience doesn't have time to think.

Where this "Producers" hits its groove is in the scene involving Roger the director, thanks to a fearless turn by Sparks. From his first appearance in a full-length gown to the wild performance of the showstopping "Springtime for Hitler," Sparks takes the stereotyped "queen" to the limit.

Also funny is Kern, as the Nazi Franz, who trains Nazi pigeons and wears lederhosen. There's a maniacal bent to Kern's performance; he appears ready to throttle anyone who besmirches the name Hitler.

Marie Madera's choreography follows much of the original dances, including the nicely executed dance of elderly ladies with walkers for the number "Along Came Bialy," and the swastika routine in "Springtime for Hitler," which can be seen from above, thanks to Norris using a camera mounted above the stage, and projecting the image behind the dancers.

Although the blackouts are too lengthy and there are several sound issues, there's a lively can-do spirit to the

TIME WARNER CABLE THE POWER OF YOU!

Something to cheer about.

TV + INTERNET

$74.99 a month

Save $215 a year. 200 Digital Channels. High-Speed Online.

Get it now

Questions and answers on Daily Breeze stories from readers like you. Submit your own question.

- Does anyone have information about the fire around the Western Ave and Westmont area at approx ... by blackhat | 1 Answer
- Are there any Art internship jobs for a 16 yr old art student? by fufu618 | 4 Answers
- Accident on Sepulveda and Anza 7/18 by fufu618 | 1 Answer
- Blacks or African American by Duped Tax Payer | 2 Answers
- Why do some african americans support Illegal Aliens? by AZ1070 | 3 Answers

More questions

More News

- Woman, 40, guilty of trying to kill newborn
- Justice Dept. backs Arizona law ruling
- L.A. officials hail ruling on Arizona law, but boycott to remain
- Border governors to meet Sept. 19-20 in NM
- Judge blocks major sections of Arizona law, state to appeal
- Dutch sailor, 14, gets OK for solo world trip
- France declares war on al-Qaida
- Wildfires burn 40 homes, threaten 150
- WikiLeaks: We don't know source of leaked data
- BP hopes to turn page with new CEO, leaner company
- Both sides gear up for Arizona law
- Audit: U.S. cannot account for $8.7B in Iraqi funds
- Big war boost clears Congress, despite Afghan leak
- 2 sisters held after patient dies using illegal cosmetics
- Prosecutors launch Bell voter fraud probe
- FAMILY FEUD: Sister pulls gun on sister in eviction case
- Arizona county deported 26,000 without new law
- 152 killed in Pakistan jet

Aerospace Players cast that glosses over some of the weaker spots.

Perhaps given its high degree of difficulty, "The Producers" wasn't the ideal choice. But it's a pleasant change to see the company try to tackle something new.

Jeff Favre is a freelance writer based in North Hollywood.

The Producers

When: 8 p.m. Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

Where: James Armstrong Theatre, Torrance Cultural Arts Center, 3330 Civic Center Drive.

Tickets: $22, $18 for seniors, students and children through the Armstrong box office, 310-781-7171.

Information: www.aeaclubs.org/theater.

Our rating: Two and 1/2 stars

BOOKMARK Print Email Font Resize Return to Top

Local businesses related to this subject view all

Daily Grill

Restaurant | El Segundo CA 90245

Toyota Sports Center

Skating Rink | El Segundo CA 90245

Mattel Toy Store

Toy Store | El Segundo CA 90245

advertise your business here

SHARE YOUR COMMENTS GOT A QUESTION?

Type in your comments below

Name (appears on your post) [input field]

Comments [text area]

Characters left: 4000

Type the numbers you see in the image on the right: [input field]

Post Comment

Please note by clicking on "Post Comment" you acknowledge that you have read the Terms of Service and the comment you are posting is in compliance with such terms. Be polite. Inappropriate posts may be removed by the moderator. Send us your feedback.

- crash
- Arizona sheriff vows to jail immigration protesters
- Agencies drill for nuclear terrorist attack
- Feds to probe East L.A. fire that killed 2

Earn From 1.40% to 1.70%
 With GE Capital Corporation. Not An Offer Of Securities
GEInterestPlus.com

Banks Forced to Forgive Credit Card Debt
 See How Much of Your Debt Can
www.LowerMyBills.com/Debt

Invest in Gold: Learn How
 Gold Delivered to Your Door. Free Investor Kit.
Goldline.com/Gold

Ads by Yahoo!

Copyright Notice | Privacy Policy | Information | Subscriber Services | Site Map | RSS
 | MNG Corporate Site Map

For more local Southern California News:

Copyright ©2008
 Los Angeles Newspaper group